Classic WSSU

CLASSIC — this is a word that fully depicts Winston-Salem State University. Founded in 1892 as the Slater Industrial Academy, WSSU has grown into an accredited, four-year, co-educational institution offering 30 major programs and three degree options.

Winston-Salem State University is located in the Triad of Piedmont North Carolina and offers a wide variety of academic and cultural development. With an enrollment of approximately 2,400 students (with a 2:3 male-female ratio), the 76 acre campus is rapidly expanding both academically and physically.

Besides its academic buildings, WSSU has added to its features the Selma Burke Art Gallery and the Sculpture Garden. The art gallery features the work of internationally renowned artist Selma Burke and that of other WSSU alumnae. The dream of a Sculpture Garden arose some fifteen years ago and with faculty enthusiasm it came to be in 1983 with the installment of the first 4 sculptures.

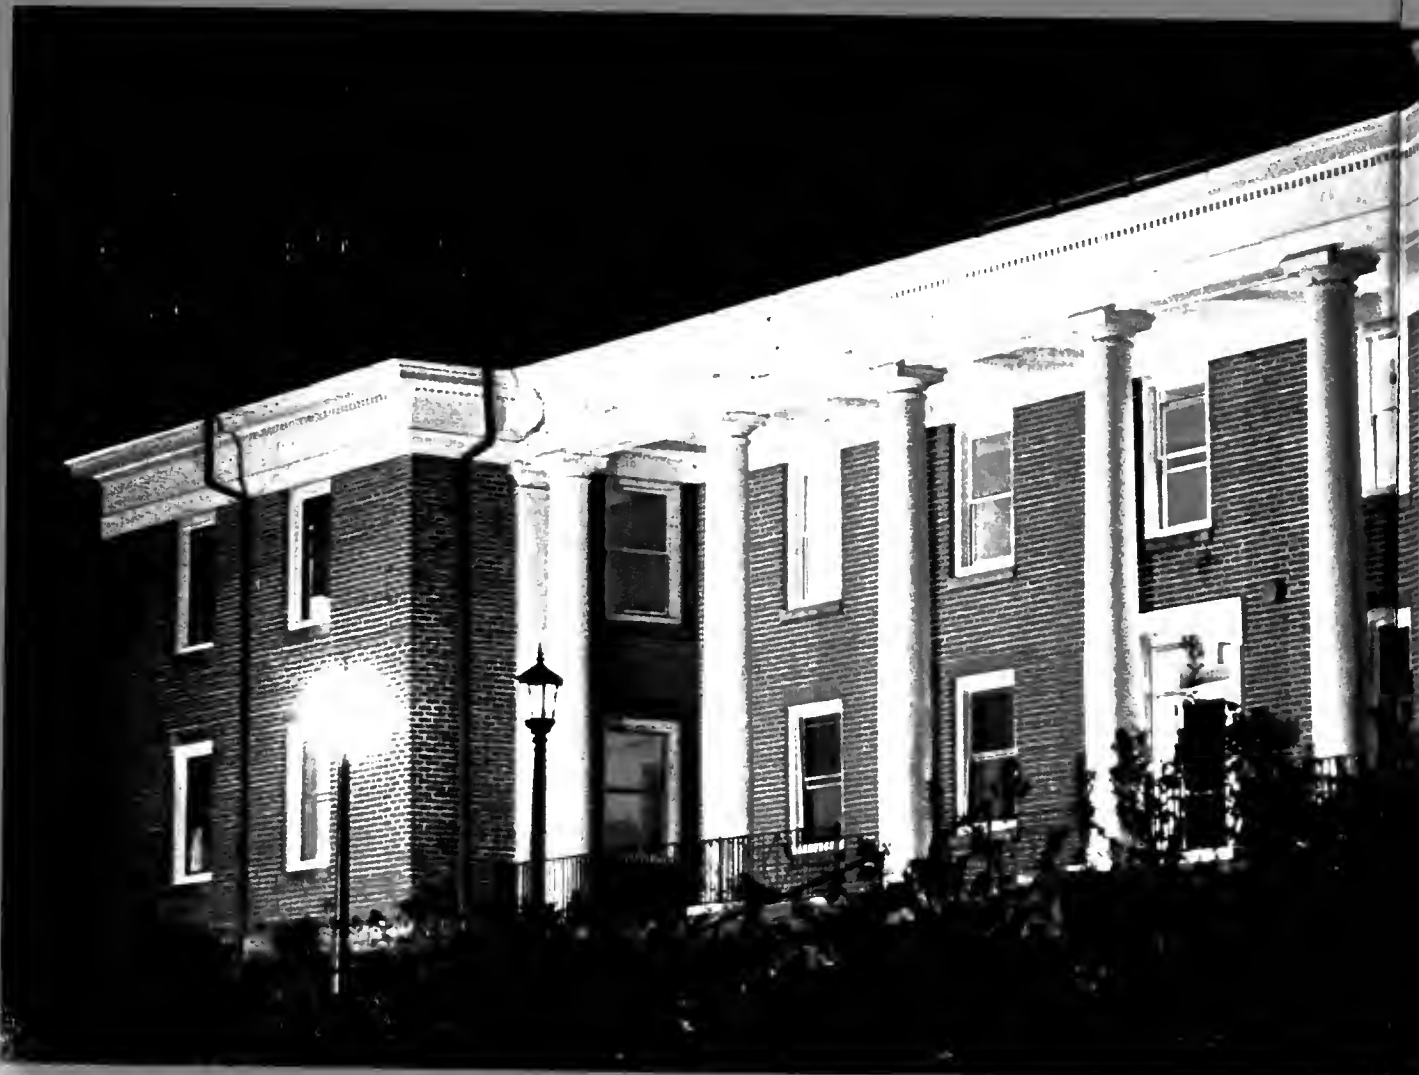

Lyceum Cultural Events are also part of the WSSU curriculum providing a wide variety of cultural activities for the school and the community. These presentation series include Academic, Performing Arts, Visual Arts, Institutional Exchange, Fine Arts Festival and the Joseph N. Patterson Lecture Assembly.

As you can see, students here at Winston-Salem State are heavily enriched academically and culturally.

Our students represent states and foreign countries and by having a small enrollment the unity of WSSU students stands strong throughout good and bad times. We live together, we laugh together and we love together. These positive attitudes enable us to leave as fully developed individuals who have learned together.

Chancellor CLEON FRANKLIN THOMPSON, JR.

Office of the Chancellor

Winston-Salem State University
WINSTON-SALEM, NORTH CAROLINA 27110

Greetings:

It is my pleasure to congratulate the entire Ram Family on this the ninety-third birthday of this great University.

As freshman Chancellor of Winston-Salem State University, I want to salute this year's graduating class on the occasion of the publication of your annual edition of the Ram. This outstanding pictorial and narrative review of my first year and your final year in the University's history will be a perpetual testimony to what we have been able to accomplish together during this academic year.

During your short stay with us here, we have endeavored to engraft upon your minds and inculcate in your hearts both wisdom and courage. Perceive the society to which you go forth to serve as neutral; an anvil upon which your knowledge and character can mold a circumstance, create an event, invent a new idea, hammer out a new truth. To the end that you do this, we proudly send you forth to brighten this world and lift its hopes.

Best wishes, and please let us hear from you.

Sincerely,

Cleon F. Thompson, Jr.
Cleon F. Thompson, Jr.
Chancellor

Dr. Cleon F. Thompson, Jr. became the Chancellor of Winston-Salem State University on August 1, 1985. He is the eighth chief administrator of the university since its founding in 1892.

A native of Harlem in New York, Dr. Thompson was reared and educated in Bennettsville, South Carolina. He earned the Bachelor's Degree in Biology at North Carolina Central University in 1956, the Masters Degree in Biology at North Carolina Central University in 1958, and the Ph.D in Educational Administration at Duke University in 1977. His doctoral studies also included three minors: political science, economics and educational law.

Dr. Thompson brought to Winston-Salem State University and its many constituent groups an extensive background in educational administration. He has served as Vice President for student services and special programs for The University of North Carolina — General Administration; Interim Chancellor for North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University (Greensboro, NC); Senior Vice President, Provost, and Vice President for academic affairs for Shaw University (Raleigh, NC). In addition, he has numerous teaching experiences to his credit. A veteran of the United States Army, Dr. Thompson was research technician in the Burn Surgical Research Unit of Brooks Army Hospital at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Dr. Thompson has written and/or co-authored a plethora of scholarly articles on topics ranging from "Design and Construction of a Lyphalization Apparatus from Scrapped Equipment for United States Army Medical Corps" to the Revised North Carolina State Plan for the Further Elimination of Racial Duality in Public Higher Education Systems, Phase II. His past and present affiliations include the American Association of University Professors, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Boy Scouts of America (District Commissioner), Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, Raleigh Business and Professional League, and the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education. He is a member of the Advisory Council of the North Carolina Community College System and the Board of Directors of the Shakespeare Festival (High Point, NC), the Microelectronic Center of North Carolina and the Ralph Campbell Scholarship Fund.

Dr. Thompson's achievements and contributions have been recognized and acknowledged by meritorious awards and citations from several groups. In 1964, he was named Man of the Year by Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity. The fraternity also honored him in 1980 for Outstanding Achievements in the Chosen Field of Human Endeavor and again in 1982 as Citizen of the Year. He is listed in Who's Who in North Carolina (1973) and Who's Who Among Black Americans (1980-81). For his distinguished service as Interim Chancellor at North Carolina A & T State University, Dr. Thompson received resolutions and citations from The University of North Carolina Board of Governors, the Board of Trustees of North Carolina A & T State University, and the National Association for Equal Opportunity in Higher Education.

Dr. Thompson counts among his interests, community work, sports, music, reading and fishing. He is married to Edwina White Thompson and they have one daughter, Cleondra Thompson Jones.

SPEAK TO ME . . .

Black College Day is an annual celebration of the 114 historically black institutions in the United States of America. The very first Black College Day was held in Washington, DC in 1980, where students from all over the country laid a foundation of tradition to rally to preserve our black schools of higher learning. It gives the students an incentive to strive for nothing less than the very best that life has to offer.

This year the state of North Carolina celebrated Black College Day at the capital in Raleigh, North Carolina for the sixth consecutive year. Black students from all over the state united to uplift the black institution in song, prayer, march and speech. Walter Fauntroy, U.S. Senator, gave an enthusiastic, heart-stirring speech that ended with an emotional standing ovation after the song, "The Greatest Love of All".

Black institutions represented at this joyous and purposeful occasion displayed colorful t-shirts that carried the names of every institution in North Carolina. This day of unity saw no rivals, just the challenge to keep our institutions alive.

THE TWIN CITY

About the Campus

WSSU is set at the junction of two interstate highways — interstate 40 and Highway 52 — near downtown Winston-Salem. The 76-acre campus features several new facilities and an outdoor Sculpture Garden, the only one of its kind in North Carolina. WSSU also has a 235-acre camp about 25 miles from the main campus. Camp Robert Vaughn offers vast woodlands, nature trails, a 20-acre lake and other modern campground accommodations to supplement the university's out-door educational and recreational programs.

PARENT'S DAY OCTOBER 12, 1985

Away from home two months and it's now time for parents to come and visit their children here at Winston-Salem State University.

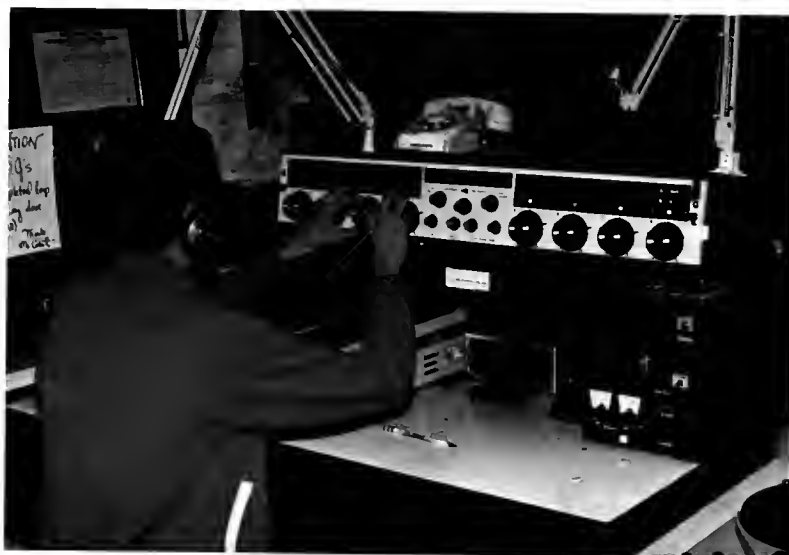

Parent's Day is an important occasion on our campus. Parents came from all over the United States. A day of fun filled activities are planned for parents to marvel over what is available to their children at WSSU.

A tour of the campus is provided to familiarize parents with all our facilities. Faculty and staff are on hand to welcome parents with assurance that their children are well taken care of.

It is a day of togetherness as WSSU students show their pride in belonging to an institution so rich in tradition, culture and learning.

A PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

Academics

When you think of academics, you probably think of only books, tests, classwork, and homework assignments. These are the components of a strong academic background.

At WSSU, students combine books and instruction with practical experience. Whether it be a science class collecting specimen from trees, art students constructing their own work of art or mass communications students learning how to operate equipment in a radio station, a lot of emphasis is placed on practical experience.

Career Planning and Placement

Career planning is a developmental process for students; therefore, as a part of their educational experience, students have career planning and placement services available to them during the entire academic experience. Among the services offered are career counseling of individuals and of groups (including the development of decision-making skills necessary for life-long planning); a career information library; sponsorship of career outreach programs; arrangements for visits to the campus of recruitment representatives from business, industry, government, school systems and graduate schools; and placement of students in employment or further professional preparation programs. While the aforementioned do not represent all of the services offered by the placement office, they are primary ones.

Services are also offered to alumni who are seeking to upgrade their employment, receive information about graduate school, and learn of employment trends.

Snow Balling

Climate

Winston-Salem enjoys a favorable climate, due in large part to its location between the mountains to the west and the coast to the east. Extremely cold temperatures during the winter are rare, as the mountains have a sheltering effect and act as a barrier to cold air masses moving eastward from the interior of the nation. Excessive accumulations of snow are rare. During summer months, tropic air brings relatively high temperatures to the area. Pertinent facts relating to the climate appear below:

Average monthly temperature	59°
Average winter temperature	41°
Average summer temperature	77°
Average relative humidity	66°
Annual average rainfall	35"
Annual average snowfall	9"

First and Ten

This is Winston-Salem State's third consecutive year as the CIAA Southern Division Champions. They have proven themselves in battle with a 9-2 record for the 1985 football season. We look forward to going all the way in 1986.

IN APPRECIATION

To Dr. Alex Johnson

... To a man who has dedicated himself as well as his time. One who has gone to all ends to see that things were done and that they were done right!

Thanks for your guidance and leadership. We APPRECIATE you for your patience when the road got rough!

We dedicate this page to you for all that you have done and all that you have given.

1986 Senior Class History

The Class of 1986 experienced numerous events. We began the quest in 1982, and since have grown, learned and dreamed of this moment. The Class Motto, "Motivation is the Key to Success," encouraged the attainment of achievement in academic programs, athletic competition, and organizational activities. It is appropriate, therefore, to identify historically those factors which have impacted upon members of the Senior Class.

The freshmen year we watched in amazement our first Mr. Ram Pageant and attended the Miss WSSU Coronation Ball. The excitement of "Ram" football games and the induction of C.E. "Bighouse" Gaines into the Basketball Hall of Fame were also a major part of this experience. Academically, we were confronted with the realization that college was more rigorous than high school and budgeting time wisely was an important objective to be accomplished. We accepted the college experience with determination.

Nineteen eighty-three brought the second phase of the quest. We were sophomores, experienced at registering for classes and veterans on the campus. During Homecoming, we were electrified by the performances of Jeffrey Osborne and Atlantic Starr. The athletic programs experienced tremendous success and their achievements added to the enjoyment of the sophomore year. We understood the amount of diligence required to achieve academically. Classes and study were given more serious attention than during the previous year. Accumulating sufficient credit hours and moving into major programs were important. There were challenges to be met and it was time to take control. Soon this year vanished and Fall semester, 1984, was imminent.

The Junior year can be described as a time of change. Dr. Douglas Covington resigned and Dr. Haywood Wilson, Jr., was appointed Interim Chancellor. Dr. Wilson is remembered for his quiet determination and concern for student's needs. The Anderson School building was acquired for the purpose of expanding academic programs. The Division of Business and Economics was moved to the new R.J. Reynolds Center. New programs were implemented in Spanish and Mass Communications, and a new program in Therapeutic Recreation was approved. Activities were held to raise funds for the residents of drought-stricken East Africa and to assist students in becoming knowledgeable about the policy of racial apartheid practiced by the governments of South Africa.

The final phase of the quest, the senior year, has come quickly. The prospect of a new Chancellor was realized with the appointment of Dr. Cleon F. Thompson, Jr. At the Founder's Day Program 250 seniors were encouraged to achieve by the keynote speaker, Dr. Samuel Proctor. The "Ram" football team continued the winning tradition.

As we reflect on the achievements of the Class of 1986, "motivation" was certainly the key to success.

THOMAS BRYANT, JR.

HOMECOMING

The Tradition of Excellence Continues

The Tradition of Excellence Continues and Homecoming 1985 will stand out as one of the "best" homecomings we have had in a while. Although the rain dampened the activities the entire week, the "Homecoming Spirit" remained with us and brought a most enjoyable week of activities.

We opened on Sunday, October 27th with events from Freshman Day. The Class of '89' sponsored the "Fresh Sports Fest" and students participated in tug-o-war contest to "Best Looking Legs" competitions. Later that evening, the Interdenominational Youth for Christ Fellowship sponsored a gospel concert. While lifting up their voices in praise of God, they captivated the audience with songs of praise.

Monday, October 28th showed WSSU students a classic lifestyle that they were not quite used to. As the not so solemn Sophomores sponsored the first Toga Party in the history of Winston-Salem State University, faculty as well as students witnessed a not so classical display of Roman attire.

Junior Day, Tuesday, October 29th, saw the Class of '87" marching through the many streets of WSSU enroute to Kennedy Dining Hall. In the Red Room the Juniors broke bread with one another. They ended the evening with the presentation of two movies in the Student Union.

And this brings us to Wednesday, Senior Day. The Seniors also enjoyed an evening of breaking bread as Po Folks restaurant catered their dinner in the Student Union.

Founder's Day 1985

Winston-Salem State University boasts a tradition of excellence in teacher education and the emergence of major university offering programs in a broad range of disciplines.

Through the years the institution went through various name and mission changes, achieving university status in 1969.

As WSSU pays tribute to its founder, Simon Green Atkins, it can be said that his name is not simply important in the History of Winston-Salem State University — but he is also a man for all times because his philosophy pervades the university's current work and aspirations.

This year's speaker came to us from Harlem, NY where he has served as pastor of the Abyssinian Baptist Church since 1972. Dr. Samuel D. Proctor enlightened the audience with his words of experience and wisdom as he touched upon the issues that are pertinent in the life of today's students.

Coronation 1985

An Evening of Elegance captured the coronation activities as we prepared to see Rita R. Archer crowned Miss WSSU 1985.

An array of beauty was presented to the audience as each organizational queen was recognized as royalty here on the campus of WSSU.

An anxiety filled audience awaited Miss WSSU "1985." After the Class queens took their place in the Queen's Court, Miss Rita Archer made her appearance looking as radiant as a shining star.

The evening's festivities ended at the Stouffer Hotel, where the Coronation Ball was so elegantly arranged. It was definitely a night to remember . . .

A Night to Remember

Red and White Day

The homecoming enthusiasm remained strong despite weather conditions. Classes were dismissed at 12:00 p.m. as the students and faculty prepared to show their colors.

Red and white lined the streets as the University Marching Band began the annual Mini-Parade. Oh what a time we had! The pep rally was a huge success as our CIAA Southern Division Championship Football Team was cheered on to yet another victory!

Pep Rally

Homecoming Parade

The Homecoming Parade is always looked forward to by the community as well as students and alumni. By some small miracle, the rain stopped just long enough for a parade and football game. Someone knew it was WSSU's Homecoming and gave us a break.

Even under cloudy skies, the brilliant colors of floats, band, uniforms and cars brought a smile to the faces of the on-looking crowd.

Miss WSSU and her court continued to wave and smile as the wind sent chills through their bodies. And the crowd enjoyed it as much or even more than if it were sunny and warm!

Homecoming Game

As the JC Smith Golden Bulls dared to go up against the WSSU Rams, The Big Red Machine revved up its engine as it prepared to run all over the Golden Bulls. And that they did. With a 14-6 victory the Rams finished off the Golden Bulls with only one thought in their minds — What will I wear to the show?

Though we capped off Homecoming with plenty of dances and parties, what is a homecoming without a show? For the past few years, many of us could have answered that question. But now, we must give the 1985 Student Government Association a round of applause for "The Magical Evening of '85."

Melba Moore and Freddie Jackson performed two dynamic shows in the K.R. Williams auditorium. And we all left wondering if Freddie would 'Rock Us Once Again.'

CORONATION NIGHT

Oletha G. Coulter is a junior Business Administration Major with a concentration in Information Systems. During her tenure, she has operated in such capacities as a Sigma Dove, member of the Elections Committee, Pep Club, Honors Program, and Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society. She intends to get her MBA and later work for the Integon or Hanes. She thanks WSSU for the Hanes Group Scholarship, and knows she "will not be defeated, for all things are possible through God's power".

Lisa Latonya Dickens believes that one should "strive to be a masterpiece". A Junior, special education major, Lisa knows by understanding the simple things in life, complex problems are easily resolved. WSSU is preparing Ms. Dickens to become a most outstanding teacher.

Who's Who Who's Who

Judith M. Fuller is a Senior Special Education major, specializing in Learning Disabilities. Throughout her co-educational process, Ms. Fuller has had the opportunity to preside as President of the Winston-Salem State Chapter of Student National Education Association (SNEA). She thanks WSSU for giving her "inconceivable knowledge and confidence." Ms. Fuller would like to teach adult students a better way of life, for she knows "the only limitations to success are within."

Belinda James is a Senior Special Education major. With a wealth of extra-curricular activities, including the Honor Society, Business Cluster Hostess and Asst. Coach to the Tiny Indian Cheerleaders. She intends to obtain her Ph.D. and teach on the College-level after becoming a member of the Forsyth County School Board. She thanks WSSU for helping her to obtain "the essential knowledge" necessary to acquire her goals and tries to "Let everyone know that she is important because God doesn't make junk!"

Who's Who Who's Who

"Help those less fortunate . . . , and leave the world a better place," says Elizabeth Martin, a Senior, Nursing major. Winston-Salem State has helped Ms. Martin to achieve her ultimate goal by becoming a nurse, which she hopes to one day work as a registered nurse. Also Ms. Martin would like to return to her alma mater and teach the profession she once so scholastically sought.

Upon Graduation Cheryl Yvette McLean hopes to teach three to five year olds, and later pursue a career in Physical Therapy. She knows that "Glory comes to those who help others," and that is why she thanks WSSU for opening the many doors to achieve her profession and what it takes to secure it.

Who's Who Who's Who

Sylvia Ann Parker is a member of the Physical Education Majors Club, and ROTC. She is a Senior Physical Education Major who knows that "motivation is the key to success". Ms. Parker intends to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army and possibly coach Women's basketball. She thanks WSSU for helping her to prepare herself for the working world.

Among the many honorary and literary societies, one may find the Senior English major Debbie A. Smith. WSSU has shown her the value of an education, and she realizes "hard work and patience make dreams become realities." Her goal is to become a top rate reporter for a major television network.

Bichson Stevenson, a Junior, Accounting major is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society, and a Color Guard captain in ROTC. She intends to become a commissioned officer in the United States Army, for she knows "Education is the key . . . to goals".

Top Right

Calvin O. Suiter is a Senior, Computer Science major who hopes to acquire a high-level position in a well established company. He enjoys being the Vice-President of Alpha Phi Alpha, and Association of Computing Machinery (ACM). "Shoot for the Stars", states Mr. Suiter, as he thanks Old SU for helping him to pursue a successful career.

Bottom Right

Karen L. Thompson is a Junior, Biology major with the determination to "never limit herself". Ms. Thompson wants to attend Medical School and become a pediatrician. She accredits WSSU with the opportunity to participate in lectures, research symposiums, summer enrichment programs, and Co-Operative experiences which are relevant to her field of study. Thompson has enjoyed working as the secretary of Project Strengthen and Dillard Hall, respectively, and being a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Inc., Science Club, Honors Organization, and a Research Assistant in the Natural Science Department.

EARLY CHILDHOOD DEVELOPMENT CENTER

"I'm not sure what I am doing."

Good, nobody can get me now.

Just sitting around.

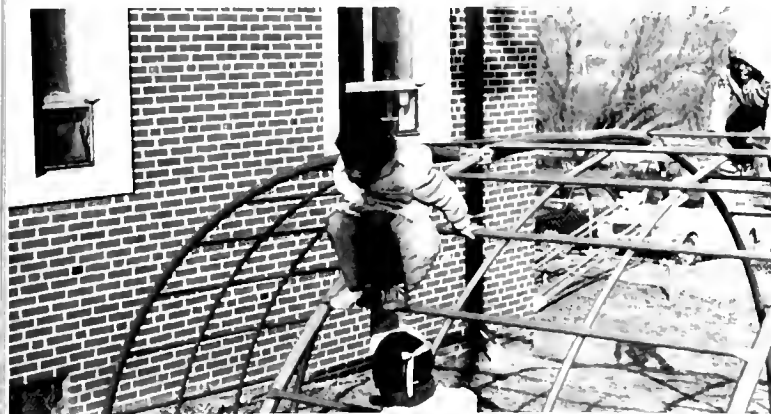

"I am going to make me some mud pies."

I didn't want to go that high.

Don't jump!

Not so fast.

All of my friends galloped away.

Who called me?

Don't mess up my cup cakes.

I told her not to push me.

What am I doing up this high?

I'm getting my clothes dirty.

Higher!

Alright, I'm in the mood.

Dear Diary,

It's me again, the professional student. I know it has been a while since my last entry, but I have been busy trying to keep up with how many classes I've missed lately.

After only three hours of sleep and a major battle with the snooze button, I got up with every intention of having a great day. I ran into the shower and waited for maintenance to turn on the HOT water. At least we had some entertainment while we waited. I vigorously brushed the pearly whites which had been stained with hamburger juice from the 'caf.' I carefully selected an outfit

from my designer wardrobe and went on my way
dressed to impress.
I stepped out into the cold and made
that long haul up
the pedestrian mall.
With one stop to make, I went by the Student Union
to check for that ever so needed
relief/welfare
letter from Mom.
Of course, she did not put any money
in it.

Everyone was trying to get in

*those last minute
cheat sheets for Ogar's test. It was then twelve minutes after 11<sup>00</sup>, and I* had just enough time to make it to my 11<sup>00</sup> class. Today, I decided to sit in the front of the class and look intelligent. It only lasted a while, I had my head in my hands and my eyes were closed but I was paying attention, honest! Dr. Laddy's class was really interesting, and the next thing I knew it was ten minutes before twelve and I heard, "see you next week class," (Classes are really getting shorter).

I decided to beat the rush hour traffic and head up to Kennedy Dining Hall, (you might know it as 'the caf'). As usual, there was a long wait for one of their specials, and I had to tell 'caf' security I was "Herb" in order to get in. I had been wondering all day what could be for lunch, and once again it was the Mc WSSU combo, you know the one where the grill stays hot and the food stays cold!

This was really a special day in my life, for the first time this semester I went to the library
(I have a paper

due tomorrow
anyhow). No matter
how hard I tried,
I could not get into my books, it must have been the surroundings.

Upon leaving, I heard those pretty boys beating their sticks on the streets. It was another "stomp" show. The music was nice, but they needed to recruit better dancers. By then it was 10:00 p.m., and I made my way over to the minor emergency clinic (A.K.A. the infirmary) to pick up drugs medicine for the cold I am going to have tomorrow morning at 9:00. The nurse responded to me with great skill and care. She jumped up from her seat, rushed over to the T.V., turned the channel, and asked me to wait for another commercial. Rumor had it that some pain relievers had been tampered with again and that was exactly what the nurse gave me for my cold. So I decided to wait for an illness to occur instead of cruising one.

I got back to the dormitory and decided I would call home and thank my Mom for the letter. Now I know why she can never get through, someone is always on the phone. I went over to my neighbor's room to study, but we wound up just watching T.V. Well I guess I'll call it a night and get ready for bed.

... Until Tomorrow

AN HONORED GUEST

Mr. Louis Farrakhan arrived at Winston-Salem State University on September 5, 1985. He was welcomed by students, faculty, staff and friends from the community.

His message gave the students a sense of direction in regards to what is happening in our world today. He stressed academic excellence and self-motivation.

This years Wachovia Excellence in Teaching Award has been bestowed upon a most deserving person. Dr. James A. Dervin has proven himself in every aspect as an instructor and has won the title "Teacher of the Year."

This award is presented annually to an instructor who has been nominated and selected on teaching effectiveness, scholarly achievement, professional participation and community service.

An ad hoc committee is appointed to screen nominations and choose a winner. The committee is comprised of four faculty members — one from each division and three students. After evaluating the nominees, the selection committee recommends the recipient to the Chancellor.

This award is presented to the honoree during the Honors Day Program each spring.

We congratulate Dr. Dervin for a job well done!

Business Industry Cluster Award 1985

Dedicated employees are indeed vital to any educational institution, and here at Winston-Salem State University, one person stands out from the rest. The 1985 Business Industry Cluster Award recipient is Ms. Cassandra Douglas.

A native of Winston-Salem, she attended Durham College where she studied General Business. She has been enrolled here at WSSU as an English major. She has worked at the university for the past twelve years as the Media Center Secretary. During this time, Ms. Douglas has also given five years of service to the university marching band as a chaperone.

As an advisor for the yearbook staff, she has labored endless hours year after year supervising the tedious preparation of the university's yearbooks. Her kindness and concern can be felt by all who come in contact with her and the wise advice that she often gives has helped students gain leadership abilities and the confidence to know they can get the job done.

All of these qualities have helped Cassandra Douglas to be recognized as a faithful worker. She has now joined the ranks of the few whose time is so willingly given and whose efforts are so greatly appreciated.

Rev. Cedric Rodney and Mrs. Mae Rodney

The Wolsey Hall Oxford Summer School in Religious studies convened on the 12th of August and concluded on the 25th of August 1985. All lectures were held at Lincoln College, Oxford, England.

The skill of Canon John Fenton, Dr. Paul Joyce, Dr. F.W. Dillistone, Dr. Martin Soskice, Rev. Dr. V.H. Green and Dr. Berrie White will long be remembered by all who participated in the religious experience. Their drawing upon the Old and New Testament, language and literature to propose new myths for our time was rich and rewarding. The lecturers were at home with languages, examining old truths and suggesting possible new truths, especially in new and old testament.

For me, the experience contributed to my personal and professional growth and, am sure, will eventually help me as a teacher in the classroom.

Dr. Lucy K. Hayden

Dr. Lucy K. Hayden, Chairperson of the Department of Communication Arts, spent six weeks this summer at the University of Oxford participating in a program entitled "Britain: Literature, History and Society from 1870 to the Present Day." The program consisted of lectures, tutorial groups, tours, and a variety of other rewarding activities.

FOREIGN STUDIES

Dr. James McLaughlin

Dr. James McLaughlin received a Fulbright Fellowship to study in Liberia, Sierra Leone and Sengal, West Africa during the summer of 1984.

"The histories of those West African nations were fascinating. The people were warm, friendly and hospitable. Moreover, the seminar provided an opportunity to meet with various segments of the population and to evaluate for myself the contributions these non-Europeans have made to the world community."

As a result of the seminar, Dr. McLaughlin is hoping to establish a student/faculty exchange program with one or all of the West African nations he visited.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Dear Fellow Rams

As we look at 1985-86, we can truly be proud of our success. I would like to thank you for your continuous support. For without you, the work of the Student Government Association would have been a difficult task to complete.

During this year, we were faced with loss and gains. But through it all, we remained a close loving family.

To the Class of 1986, may you always be successful in your every endeavor and may your experiences from this university community always bring forth the knowledge to endure the future.

To the underclassmen, may you continue to strive for excellence, for the difference you make can make all of the difference.

Love to my RAM FAMILY

CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION

After three years at Winston-Salem State University, I began to feel bored with the everyday routine. I could feel my motivation slipping away. My interest in school was at an all-time low. I knew something had to be done to regain my interest in school.

It took me awhile to make the decision, but after talking with other CO-OP students, I decided to pursue such a position. I started meeting with Mr. Walter Odom, Coordinator for the University's Cooperative Education Program. Mr. Odom was straight forward in advising me of all the advantages and disadvantages of the CO-OP position, but what stood out the most was his statement on experience.

I remember him saying, "You can read a book on swimming, take the test and pass it but it still doesn't mean you can swim." This statement made me even more eager to be a CO-OP student. I saw myself having learned to swim in the pool of business but drowning from lack of experience, I was determined not to let that happen. I began interviewing and after the second interview, the North Carolina Department of Transportation offered me a position as an Account CO-OP student, in the Public Transportation Division.

My job as an Accounting student for the department consisted of monitoring fiscal accounts using a telex computer, processing partial invoices for payments, preparing contracts for Pre-Award Audit and local execution, recording partial payments, setting up and closing out fiscal accounts and preparing documents using the IBM Display Computer.

As a CO-OP student, I was also able to meet and talk with professional people such as accountants, auditors, and managers. I was constantly introduced to new procedures concerning the department and of the business field. Throughout my CO-OP position, there have been many rewards, some more rewarding than others. I have learned to work with different people from many backgrounds.

It has helped me to make definite decisions about my future career, like the area of accounting that I would like to pursue. And how far I would like to go into the accounting field.

As the CO-OP program came to an end, I had many characteristics that have developed during this experience. These characteristics includes knowledge and experience of the business industry, self-confidence, leadership and pride in my work.

The stage was set. Students sat with unsurmountable anxiety as they waited for the concert of the year. It was Lisa Lisa with Cult Jam and Full Force.

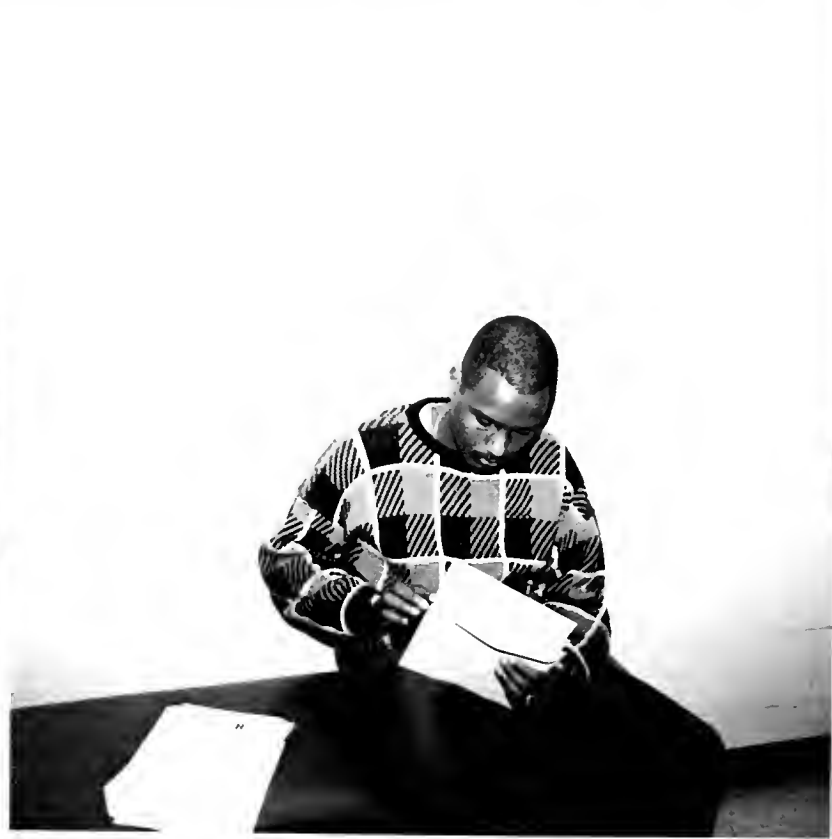

Students were amazed to see C.E. Gaines Complex house "the show" as the music of the evening filled the gym. The Student Government Association was proud, as they once again presented, "A Magical Evening."

'85/86 RAM STAFF IN PRODUCTION

DANITA G. RUCKS
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
"THE RAM" 86

Dear Fellow Rams:

A lot of time, hard work, effort and dedication has gone into the preparation of the 1986 Ram yearbook. In gathering these memories and putting them into words and pictures, I attempted to make this yearbook one that would be cherished by you as long as you are a Ram.

To the 1986 staff, I must say that through all of the confusion of last minute deadlines, missing photographs, roughly written copy and late night sessions, your diligence and dedication pulled us through to successfully complete this year's Ram. I feel that without your continued support, there would not have been a 1986 staff. I extend special thanks to Brent Wilson, Conrad Smith, Carol Drewery, Victor Coffey, Lynette Harley, Sonya Terry, Juan Evans, Sam Garnes, Rodney Brown, Scott Garrison, my Mom and Dad and my good friend and co-editor Rita Archer for without you, the 1986 Ram would have never materialized and remained only a dream. Above all, I would like to thank the Heavenly Father for giving me the strength to make it through all of these times, good and bad.

As far as awards go, I can not think of anything that could ever reward the dedication that two people have continuously put into the preparation and publication of The Ram. Cassandra Douglas and Beaufort Bailey are more than two advisors putting time into a project. They are friends, friends that you can turn to when you want to laugh and when you want to cry. They have been my home away from home. They take both a personal interest in the students and do whatever they can to help them fulfill their potential. They help you to learn and to grow and always present a positive attitude towards the entire Ram family. If it had not been for their time, knowledge and determination, the task of completing The Ram would have been almost improbable. When I say "THANK YOU AND I LOVE YOU BOTH," it comes from the entire staff.

To the Class Of 1986, you are now taking on a new and even more difficult challenge than you did when you first entered into this institution. You are now on your own to put forth all that you have acquired as a member of the Ram family. Congratulations and best wishes for continued success in your never-ending journey through life. I hope that in the years to come, you can look back at this 1986 yearbook and be reminded of all of your times here at old SU.

To my fellow Rams, I would like to thank all of you who contributed to this year's book. The list is too long to name but thank you for being there for us. I hope this pictorial and terminological record of VSSU will serve as an easy reference for you in the years to come. And, in looking through the pages, you will feel like it only happened yesterday.

Yours Truly,

Danita G. Rucks

The Wachovia Banking Card

Now you can use it nationwide.

At more than 130 Teller II® locations; at hundreds of other automated teller machines located at branches of participating financial institutions in North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia through the Relay<sup>SM</sup> network; and at thousands of locations nationwide through the CIRRUS® network.

Every Wachovia checking or Statement Savings account customer gets a Wachovia Banking Card at no extra charge. A Personal Banker<sup>SM</sup> can tell you more — and why you shouldn't settle for less.
